

GeoCamp Iceland

Educating for a Sustainable Future through Geoparks & Climate Action

Innovative Teaching of Climate Change
11th March 2025 in Afyonkarahisar, Turkey

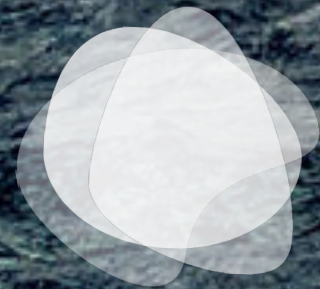

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

Iceland - Land of Fire & Ice

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

Iceland is a volcanic island and a micro-state surrounded by the North-Atlantic Ocean, 103.000 km2 in size, with a total population of only 400.000 inhabitants

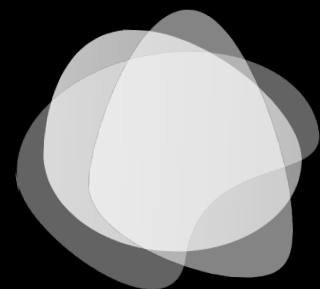

GeoCamp Iceland

We're on the longest mountain chain in the world running for 16.000 km

GeoCamp Iceland

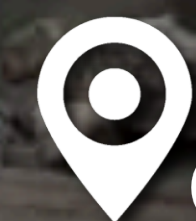

GeoSchools

Reykjanes UNESCO Global Geopark

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

More than just the rocks

GeoCamp Iceland

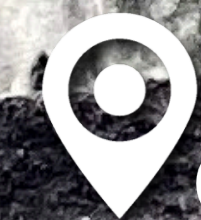

GeoSchools

Climate Crisis: A Challenge for All

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

Renewable Energy in Iceland

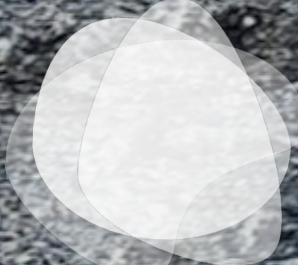

GeoCamp Iceland

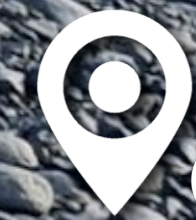

GeoSchools

Active Climate Education

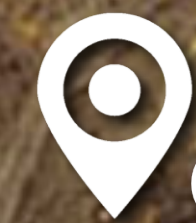

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

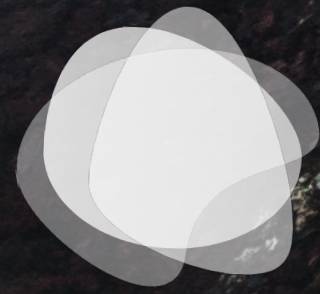

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

A person wearing a red jacket and dark pants stands on the peak of a dark, jagged rock formation. The person is looking out over a vast, flat landscape under a dramatic sky with heavy, dark clouds and a bright orange and yellow sunset or sunrise glow on the horizon. The foreground shows the rough, textured surface of the rock.

What can we do?

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

A Call to Action

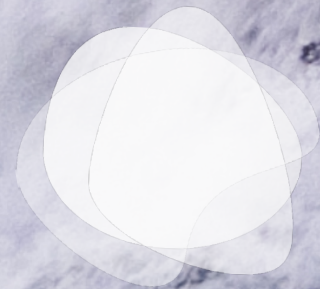

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

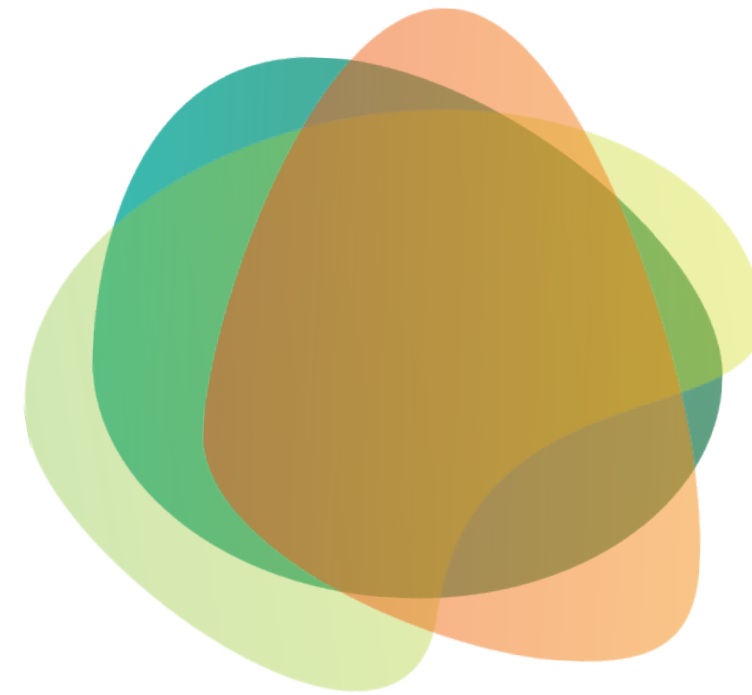

www.geoschools.eu

GeoCamp Iceland

GeoSchools

GeoCamp Iceland